NEFTEGAZ 2014 in Moscow is still heading for growth Trade fair is first choice for Russian oil and gas industry

Good prospects due to fast-growing market / Messe Düsseldorf, its subsidiary OOO Messe Düsseldorf Moscow and EXPOCENTR are expecting about 1,000 exhibitors from 32 countries

From 26 to 29 May 2014 NEFTEGAZ 2014 – the international exhibition of equipment for the oil and gas industry – will again transform the exhibition centre SAO Expocentr in Krasnaya Presnya into an industry meeting place for experts and trade visitors. This leading trade fair of the industry, now held for the 15th time, has strong support from government and industry alike: it is backed, for instance, by Dmitri Medvedev, Prime Minister of the Russian Federation, Sergey Naryshkin, Chairman of the State Duma of the RF, and Aleksandr Torshin, first deputy of the Federation Council of the RF. NEFTEGAZ, which is held in Moscow at two-year intervals under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Russian Federation, also receives valuable support from Russia's Ministry of Energy and Moscow's city government. On several occasions the trade fair has received awards from the Global Association of the Exhibition Industry (UFI) and the Russian Union of Exhibitions and Fairs (RUEF).

The oil and gas industry, which dominates the Russian market at around 43%, is still heading for growth and is of far-reaching importance to the international supplier industry. Erhard Wienkamp, who is a Member of the Management Board of Messe Düsseldorf GmbH and responsible for trade fairs outside Germany, is confident about NEFTEGAZ: "Especially in view of the current difficult political climate, an international business platform is more important than ever before. We are optimistic and hopeful to continue the success of the previous event in June 2012."
